CROSSFIELD—On Wednesday evening, January 4, Mrs. Dorothy Richardson called an executive meeting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hesketh. The meeting was called to order by President Dorothy Richardson with Secretary Jean Stevens recording the minutes. Present at so were the following: Vice-president, Mrs. Stillings; treasurer, A. B. Campbell; president of East Community Red Cross, Mrs. E. Robinson; convener of work committee, Mrs. Mable Edlund; representatives from Madden, Mr. and Mrs. Latimer. (Madden is an auxiliary branch).

Fitzpatrick were both asked to serve on a nominating committee to present slate of officers for the purpose of canvassing, which project starts March 2. Mr. H. McDonald was delegated to arrange for a speaker and for entertainment. In compliance with this request, Mr. McDonald was able to secure K. He will not, however, speak on Water Safety, but will stress the accomplishments of the work of the Red Cross Society in Alberta during the past year. Mr. Hodgert was appointed to his present position last summer and is a recent graduate of the University of B.C. Olds High School visited Crossfield and handed the local club a 4-2 set-back. Olds took a one to nothing lead at the end of the first period, increasing it to 2-0 at the end of the second period. In the third period Olds scored another marker and Crossfield retaliated with two quick goals to end the game. Visitors 4, and locals 2.

The Crossfield Juniors were edged out by Olds Juniors to the tune of 4-2. Both clubs had a goal each at the end of first period with Olds scoring two goals in the second. Crossfield scored another marker in the third period but Olds had already put a laymaker in the net early in the last period to clinch the game 4-2.

The boys are anticipating your continued support and will endeavor to make interesting games for your pleasure.

Poor Hunting

If you operate on the theory that every woman without a husband is looking for one, then the odds against bagging a husband in New York are better than 2 to 1. Statistics for the metropolitan area show there are more than two husbandless women, including widows and divorcees, for each wifeless man.

BREAD IS NOW ENRICHED WITH FOUR VITAMINS

SANGUDO — Bread, the symbol of health and strength — of life itself — has been made even more life-giving.

Bakers across Canada, from little home businesses to vast bakery chains, started using, on February 2nd, bread flour which looks no different and costs no more but which contains four added food elements—thiamin, riboflavin, niacin and iron.

The dry wording of the new regulations permitting bakers to use this far more nutritious flour cannot possibly reveal what enrichment of bread means.

It means that four of the most important vitamins can now be cooked into a loaf. It means more energy for growing children and more protection for the health of adults.

Although enrichment of bread is only now being introduced into the rest of Canada, our newest province, Newfoundland, has had legislation for nine years making it compulsory. And so important was the measure considered by the island's leaders that a special clause protecting it was inserted into the agreement by which it became part of Canada in 1949.

Many of the most prominent nutritionists in North America came to Toronto on January 26th for the First Nutrition and Enrichment conference introducing and explaining the meaning of bread and flour enrichment to representatives of press, radio, farm groups—all those interested in the new development. And that means everyone in Canada.

Their reports were revealing. One of the most distinguished of the visitors, Dr. Russell M. Wilder, director of the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases of the U.S. Public Health Service, said bread enrichment is considered as important as a public health measure as control of food contamination.

This view is held by many authorities, he said. Even such unlikely disturbances as an upset of emotional stability can be traced to lack of this maline, one of the vitamins in enriched bread, Dr. Wilder said.

Niacin, provided in the diet by meat, will now be supplied in bread to those who cannot, for any reason, obtain it from the former source. Those who cannot easily obtain, or are unable to drink, sufficient milk, will also benefit from the riboflavin added by enrichment, the U.S. authority pointed out.

Three of the principal factors demanded by purchasers of bread will be unchanged—appearance, taste and keeping quality.

Venerated for millenniums as the Staff of Life, bread gave words to our vocabulary and proverbs to our language. The English "lord," when he was in fact the chief and protector of his little community in Saxon times, was the Loaf-ord, the Loaf-Giver. His "lady," the Loaf-dig—the Loaf-Maker. Breaking bread became the symbol of friendship and hospitality.

And now, all the historic and scientific drama behind the story of bread has a new meaning for Canadians.

Glendon District Shows Fine Community Spirit

GLENDON—The Glendon Bulletin received word recently of a splendid community project which took place just before Christmas.

On Dec. 23, a group of carollers, sponsored by the Girls' Club, "did the town" and the proceeds of their efforts were donated to Mrs. Ursula Spittal, a nurse in Glendon Hospital, to aid in the treatment needed for her little boy.

In expressing her appreciation, Mrs. Spittal said, "Ever since our arrival at Glendon we have received nothing but kindness and help from everyone." Glendon folks lent furniture, helped us move, gave us gifts of fowl, eggs, milk and all our vegetables for the winter. We had expected a lonely and rather plain Christmas but you all helped to make it a happy and bountiful one.

And then on the evening before Christmas Eve, the carollers came to present us with $56.00 they had gathered for Robert's artificial eye. It was such a surprise that words failed me at the time. I would like to take this opportunity to thank one and all, near and far, for your many gifts, your kindness and generosity to me, to my mother, and to my two boys."

Gestures such as the one just described show that there is still a basic goodness in the hearts of many, and the Glendon Girls' Club and all those who donated to this cause are to be commended for their gesture.

This photograph shows a section of the interior of the lounge.

ONOWAY—Curling, curling—everyone is talking about it in Onoway. On corners, in coffee shops, homes and wherever two people meet—everybody has joined the "if I'd done this"—"did you see that last rock of mine?" club.

Mrs. Reg Ormstead had everyone's thoughts at heart the other night when she said: "Whatever we are going to do with our nights when spring comes."

In the bonspiel just over, Jan. 30 to Feb. 3, in which 29 rinks were entered, the A. J. Rennie rink took top honors in the first event, and in the second event the winners were the C. Taylor rink. Runners-up were A. Lafleur in the first event and G. Wilson in the second event.

Eight prizes were donated by Onoway business men to spark the incentive to win, but the biggest spark was the share of fun and sportsmanship. In years to come, predictions are that Onoway will be on Alberta's curling map.

There will be more news about the building fund next week. At present a drawing of the church in the large Sunday School room provides an indication of the support already given. It contains "blocks" each of which is worth one dollar. The "blocks" are being filled with names of donors.

At the church service on Sunday, February 1, the minister, thanked the C.G.I.T. girls for their job of hymn book repairing. The sermon, which was about unity between the churches, was based on the text in which Jesus prays that all His followers would be one. ## HOME IS IN YOUR POCKET

WHEREVER YOU ARE you can be in touch with your home, office or farm with the aid of a two-way, cigarette-pack-size radio set now being produced in Britain.

Named Tele-radio, its inventor, Michael Kasia, demonstrates it on the right. The set is in the top pocket of his coat, and the power-pack in the bottom. Unseen, the aerial is sewn in the lining. If necessary, all the equipment can be concealed and operate behind the lapel.

With the help of a British cigarette pack and ruler, the size of the set is pictured below. The pack is on the box on the left of the picture; the ruler (behind the hand) shows the set's length as under 4".

The sets are built so that several can operate in the same area without interference, and have tiny tubes adapted from those used in Britain's radar-controlled anti-aircraft shells used during the war.

Predicts Lower Cattle Prices

American cattle prices will drop 20 per cent in the next four years, says Wayne Darrow, president of Farm Reports Incorporated of Washington, D.C. The slump in prices, he says, will result from the highest cattle production level in the country's history. Last year's inflated prices, combined with this year's drouth, have brought 1952 prices well below the anticipated level. He doubts if the removal of the American embargo on Canadian cattle next March will have much effect on prices there since the volume to hit the American market would be small in relation to the total livestock population there.

U.S. Wheat Situation

Concern is being expressed in the United States over the large volume of grain, some 408 million bushels, which has gone into the government loan. If the price does not rise by spring, farmers will liquidate their indebtedness to the government on wheat loans simply by turning over the grain to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

The U.S. wheat carryover from 1951 was 275 million bushels and the crop 1,300 million bushels. Exports in the current crop year may reach 350 million bushels. The carryover next July may go as high as 560 million bushels. The all-time record U.S. carryover was 631 million bushels.

Critics of the government's agricultural policy claim that in maintaining the farm price of wheat at an average of $2.20 a bushel, encouragement has been given to increase production, which may lead to burdensome surpluses.

Survey Of Churchgoers

We aren't certain if any up-to-date statistics are available on how many Canadians go to Church and how often, but an interesting set of figures has come to us from south of the border.

The first nationwide survey of religious beliefs and practices ever made in the United States was recently completed and showed that only 35,000,000 Americans go to church every week. An equal number, 35,000,000, never go to church. A slightly larger number, 38,000,000, go to church periodically.

The survey showed that although only about one-third of the population goes to church regularly, ninety-nine per cent believe in God. It is interesting to note that of the 35,000,000 Americans who never go to church, many nevertheless identify themselves as either Protestants or Catholics, or members of various denominations.

The survey indicates the attitude of many Americans toward the church is a casual one. Nevertheless, the fact that ninety-nine per cent of the population believes in God is a strong indication that the United States is a bulwark of Christianity.

Even so, it is a bit surprising that so many Americans never go to church and this fact is a challenge to all churches.

Probably the figures are no better for Canada and if it is true that two out of three Canadians never go to church or attend only on casual occasions, it presents a challenge and an opportunity to the pastor of every Christian Church in our great country.

Farm Price Index Down

Farm prices hit a 4-year low in October, the bureau of statistics reports. Livestock and potato prices fell to force the farm price index down to 243.5 from 250.7 in September, and 301.4 in October, 1951.

The index, based on 1935-39 prices equaling 100, was lowest since April, 1948.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING

Complaint Against Council Brings Big Attendance

By T. W. PUE

The week-end of Saturday, February 21st will be a busy time for all Municipal District Reeves, councillors and secretaries. On that day in most Municipal Districts in Alberta the ratepayers have the opportunity to meet, discuss municipal affairs in an open forum, and nominate candidates who will run in the March elections.

T. W. PUE

I say that the annual ratepayers' meeting will be held on Saturday in MOST places, and that is true with a few exceptions. For if 20 or more ratepayers, for some good reason, religion for instance, do not want the meeting held on Saturday, it will be held on Monday instead. This year, for instance, Stony Plain and Lac Ste. Anne meetings will take place on Saturday in Stony Plain town and Mayerthorpe, respectively, while the Municipal District of Minburn will meet on Monday in the hamlet of Minburn.

ATTENDANCE LIMITED

Except when some spectacular issue comes up, the attendance at these municipal ratepayers meetings is often disappointing. About 74 people attended the Stony Plain and Strathcona meetings last year. That's about 5 per cent of the resident ratepayers in each case. The truth is, of course that there just aren't any meeting places big enough to accommodate more than 15 per cent or 20 per cent of all the ratepayers in any Municipal District. The town of Stony Plain has one of the finest community halls of any town comparable in size, and upwards of 300 ratepayers could attend there if they wish.

But even that is only one out of every six ratepayers and so the great majority depend upon the municipal news as reported in the municipal paper, and, knowing and approving of what the council does, the majority do not think it necessary to brave the hardships of icy or snow-clogged roads to attend.

300 AT SPECIAL MEETING

Just about the biggest attendance known at Stony Plain was for a special meeting called by 23 petitioners in the Spruce Grove district over the resignation of Councillor for that Division, Harry Brox.

Mr. Brox had been asked to resign because of a technical error in selling goods and services to the Municipal District while still a Councillor. There was not and has not been the slightest suspicion of any wrong-doing or mis-use of Municipal funds, but a rule is a rule and Councillor Brox resigned. Then someone thought this was a wonderful opportunity to indict the whole council, and petitioned for a special meeting designed to find the Reeve and council at fault and, presumably, seek the resignation of the whole council.

But this the ratepayers refused to do. A resolution that would declare the council "at fault", actually was made and discussed upon and voted on, but even it was watered down considerably by the mover who made it plain he was not seeking to have the council disqualified. The vote must have been a disappointment to the 23 petitioners who called the meeting because the resolution lost, and there were less than 23 votes in favor of it!

WELL CHAIRED

Just about the most able chairman we've met for a long time is C. D. Fuhr, who presided over this special ratepayers' meeting. We'll bet, too, that it's one of the best attended meetings Mr. Fuhr ever chaired and this no doubt is due largely to the advance publicity given the meeting by the EDMONTON SUN.

Nevertheless, I did think at times that Mr. Fuhr expressed opinions that he as a neutral should have left to someone on the floor to express.

NOT LEGISLATIVE BODY

I would urge as many ratepayers as can make it attend the annual ratepayers' meeting in their municipal district. This is YOUR opportunity to express YOUR opinions for the guidance of the council. However, it should be kept in mind that the ratepayers' meeting is not a legislative body. The council serves all ratepayers—including the 85 per cent that weren't able to attend the meeting, and each councillor stands or falls on the strength of the electors' vote in his own division.

We have the privilege of serving several municipal districts with a weekly paper that gives ratepayer-subscribers complete minutes of council meetings and other municipal news. Ratepayers are in this way kept up-to-date on municipal news whether or not they ever attend a council meeting or a ratepayers' meeting.

As long as the Municipal paper plan is kept in effect in this Municipal District you will always be kept fully informed on all municipal business.

OLDSMOBILE FOR 1953 is completely new in frontal appearance, has a host of styling changes inside and out and features many mechanical advances including a more powerful "Rocket" engine. Two series, the Classic "98" and Super "88", offer a total of seven body styles in a wide array of new solid and two-tone color combinations. Frigidaire car conditioning, that cools the car interior in the warmest weather; and a safety-padded instrument panel, are options at extra cost on the "98" series. Directional signals are standard equipment on all models. Both series offer, as extra options, "Pedal Ease" power brakes, for faster, safer stops; Power steering; the Autronic Eye, an automatic headlight dimmer; and Hydra-Matic Super Drive. Shown here is the Oldsmobile Super "88" four-door sedan.

ENGINE IMPROVEMENT FEATURED IN NEW OLDSMOBILE

Completely new in frontal appearance and offering other styling changes inside and out as well as many mechanical advances, the 1953 Oldsmobile models were introduced recently by General Motors Products of Canada. Among the important improvements in the new models, are further increases in efficiency of the "Rocket" engine, resulting in increased fuel economy and performance; compression ratio raised to 8 to 1, which also boosts the horsepower; and a more efficient 12-volt ignition system.

Frigidaire car conditioning that cools the car interior in the warmest weather is available on the Classic "98" series as an option at extra cost. "Pedal Ease" power brakes, to provide faster, safer stops, are an option at extra cost on all models.

Two series of Oldsmobile cars are presented in 1953. The Classic "98" series has been extended to 215 inches in length and is built in three body styles—the four-door sedan, Holiday coupe and convertible coupe. Four body styles are available in the popular Super "88" series—four-door sedan, two-door sedan, Holiday coupe and convertible coupe. Both the "98" and Super "88" are powered by a 165-horsepower "Rocket" engine. Wheelbase is 124 inches on the Classic "98" series and 120 inches on the Super "88" series.

Distinguishing the 1953 Oldsmobile is a new front bumper and grille assembly. The bumper and grille have been gracefully redesigned, with two distinctive oval ornaments serving as supports for the upper bumper bar. The name Oldsmobile is inscribed on this bar in metal letters. Parking lights under the headlights are in new round recesses.

Setting off the interior styling is an entirely new instrument panel, which has two circular recesses on either side. The instrument cluster is located in the left-hand recess in front of the driver, giving ready visibility for the gauges, speedometer and Hydra-Matic indicator. The latter has been transferred from the steering column and is electrically actuated.

The right hand recess of the instrument panel houses the electric clock, also the radio speaker when a radio is ordered. The glove compartment is located in the direct centre of the panel and is flanked on each side by a convenient ash receiver, which is readily accessible to any passenger. When the door of the glove compartment is down, it can serve as a handy tray. A safety-padded top for the instrument panel, made of flexible non-retaining plastic over foam rubber, can be ordered as optional extra equipment on the "98" series.

In going from a six-volt to a 12-volt electrical system for 1953, Oldsmobile has obtained higher capacity to meet the increasing demands of the engine and the accessories that have been added in recent years. Improved cold weather starting and better ignition are two immediate benefits of the 12-volt system. The new 12-volt, 70-ampere battery has 30 per cent greater over-all capacity than the 6-volt which it supersedes. The new 30-ampere generator has a third greater capacity. Other components revised because of the new 12-volt system, are the starter, voltage regulator, ignition coil, lights, horns and wiring.

Then I saw a woman whom I mistook for my grandmother, because she had the same type of coat on and was the same height. I went up to her and was feeling her coat. Then I said: "Where are we going now, grandma?" She turned around. It turned out to be a woman I had never see before!

Alberta Drought-Stricken Lands Reclaimed— Now Support Thriving Mixed-Farming Economy

Fourteen years ago much of the population of east central Alberta was burdened with debt and harassed by soil erosion and drought. Today these same districts, which now make up the Special Areas, support a thriving population of grain farmers, ranchers and mixed farmers.

These past 14 years have seen a great change in the traditionally dry area of Alberta. Controlled grazing has been introduced, new grass has halted soil drifting, and the general existence of its residents has been greatly improved.

From 1931 to 1937 farmers and ranchers in the district received direct relief of almost $1,000,000. In 1951 total direct relief to the same population was little more than $5,000.

THREE SPECIAL AREAS

Three districts make up the Special Areas. These are the Berry Creek-Sullivan Lake Special Area No. 2, Sounding Creek-Neutral Hills Special Area No. 3, and Bow West Special Area No. 4. Special Area No. 1 reverted to two improvement districts and the British Block in 1943, while the remaining portion became a part of Special Area No. 2.

The existing Special Areas cover 265 townships and have a rural population of 12,552. This population figure has remained constant for the past six years.

The main reasons for organizing Special Areas were to assist farmers and ranchers both financially and agriculturally, and to control settlement in the areas. One of the first phases of the program was to depopulate the areas to a point where the remaining farmers and ranchers could utilize enough land to make their operations successful.

One method of encouraging depopulation was to pay freight within the Province to anyone who wished to move from the Special Areas to other farming districts.

LANDS CLASSIFIED

During 1936 to 1938, economic and water surveys were made of the area and lands were divided into three major classifications. These were: submarginal land suitable only for grazing; marginal land suitable for a combination of grazing and wheat production; and land suitable for wheat production.

Today, most of the farmers and ranchers in the area own their lands and rent additional acreage from the government. Of the 6,000,000 acres in Special Areas, about 2,000,000 are privately owned. Of the remaining 4,000,000 acres, approximately 3,700,000 are held under lease or used as community pasture, while the remaining 300,000 acres are unoccupied.

MIXED FARMING GENERAL

The greatest percentage of the rural population is engaged in mixed farming, with 2,730 listed at the last census. The average holding is 1,500 acres, while 110 residents have holdings of 10,000 acres or more.

By 1939, depopulation had been brought to a point where it was found advisable to undertake a rehabilitation program. The program allowed farmers or ranchers to increase their holdings and to exchange their lands for improved locations. It introduced water development, regrassing of abandoned lands, and allowed grazing rentals on the basis of the carrying capacity of the land.

When the program to re-seed grass was introduced, free crested wheat grass and brome grass seed was provided by the government. Since that time, more than 500,000 lbs. of seed has been distributed and the present program allows for distribution on a half cost basis.

The water survey enabled authorities to determine accurate water sheds, the approximate amount of run-off and the most advantageous place for impounding and utilizing the water.

The administration of the areas is undertaken by a three-man Special Areas Board, which is located at Hanna. This Board is appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, and has full jurisdiction over the financial and administrative matters in the areas.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Assisting the board is an advisory committee, made up of 16 ratepayers who are elected annually with the committee to hear recommendations or grievances from the 16 districts.

All records and financial accounts are kept by the Department of Municipal Affairs in Edmonton, and a Special Areas Branch handles grazing leases, posts tax notices, and makes other financial arrangements.

In addition, offices have been established at Hanna, Oyen, Consort and Lomond. These offices take applications for land, collect taxes and crop shares, and generally do much the same duties as a municipal secretary's office.

The life of a farmer living in the Special Areas differs little from that of any other dry land farmer. Soil conservation and careful farming practices are urged, and most services provided by a municipal district can be found in the Special Areas.

SIX COMMUNITY PASTURES

Most of the farmers operate a quarter or half section of their own and lease another portion of land from the government. Six community pastures in the Special Areas are used by ranchers and mixed farmers, while others hold smaller grazing leases near their own property.

Two municipal hospitals were constructed at Oyen and Cereal with funds provided by the Special Areas, while assistance was given in the enlarging of hospitals at Consort and Coronation, which although their districts do not lie entirely within the Special Areas, serve a large percentage of their population.

The Special Areas also took over the former school of agriculture and home economics at Youngstown and in 1948 opened the completely renovated building as the Pleasantview Home for the Aged. The building now houses about 65 aged residents of Special Areas and has a capacity of 75.

In co-operation with the Department of Public Health and villages in the area, the Special Areas provided five municipal nurses, giving complete service to the area.

At one time, grain harvesting at Cereal in the heart of the Special Areas was considered the finest in Canada. If irrigation is introduced to this dry belt, the Special Areas may become leading producers of prize grain in the Province.

Some areas of Alberta have an abundance of water, as shown by the photograph above. Other areas suffer severely from drought each year. Through reclamation and correct and careful subsequent farming, scenes like the above may some day be commonplace among the drier areas of the province.

Judges To Pick Barley Champs February 23-24

Judges of the 1952 National Barley Contest will have no easy time in picking the regional and provincial winners in Alberta.

A year which produced a high yield barley crop of good quality may bring from 135 to 150 samples for final examination before the top 14 entries are determined. As in former years the province is divided into two regions for purposes of the contest with seven prizes awarded in each region. From the 14 regional winners the judges will determine the three best for provincial awards.

Growers in Alberta made a record 581 entries. All of them may not be shipped and inspected for the judging which takes place February 23 and 24 at Calgary preceding the annual Seed Fair of the Calgary Chamber of Commerce.

Awards will be made by a panel of the province's barley experts, Dr. A. G. McCalla, Edmonton, Dean of the Agriculture Faculty of the University of Alberta; A. M. Wilson, Edmonton, Provincial Field Crops Commissioner; and C. A. Weir, Calgary, District Supervisor of the Dominion Plant Products Division.

Alberta provincial winners will be candidates for the interprovincial awards. These will be made at Winnipeg when the Manitoba entries are judged March 12 and 13, by an interprovincial panel which will include the three Alberta judges.

Edmonton East M.P. Points Up Financial Contributions of Federal Government to Alberta's Prosperity

A. F. Macdonald, Member for Edmonton East, speaking in the House of Commons recently told of the tremendous amount of money which the Federal Government spends in Alberta through Old Age Pensions, Family Allowances, Grants to Hospitals, Universities, Agriculture, Irrigation, Education, etc. Mr. Macdonald stated that the Federal Government gets very little credit for this as most of these are almost entirely cash grants given to the province and spent by them.

Mr. Macdonald was heckled considerably by some of the Social Credit members but, according to reports, he had no trouble in brushing them off.

He pointed out that over 300,000 children in Alberta receive Family Allowance, and about 40,000 people receive Old Age Pensions. The province has received over $11,000,000 from the Federal Government in Health grants. These various Federal grants have greatly increased the construction and furnishing of more hospitals, as well as provided additional training for physicians and nurses.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

At Half Price

Father of the Bride: My daughter will have a dowry of $50,000 but, of course, I must make inquiries of your antecedents and prospects.

Suitor: Don't make any inquiries and I will take her for $25,000.

Mental Footwork

"Does your husband get much of kick out of his vacation?"
"Indeed he does. It gives him a lot more leisure to grumble."

Test of Patriotism

"What would you call a perfect citizen?"

"A man who feels like singing the National Anthem when making out his income tax return."

He Passed All Right

In the University of Wisconsin, students undergoing an examination in English were asked:

"Write out examples of the indicative, the subjunctive, the potential, and the exclamatory moods."

To which one struggling pupil complied with the following:

"I am endeavoring to pass an English examination. If I answer 20 questions, I shall pass. If I answer 12 questions I may pass. God help me!"

On A Sunday Morning

Parson (meeting a neighbor bringing home a load of hay)—
Jenkins, wouldn't it be better if you attended services instead of working this way?

Jenkins—Mr. Dawkins, I don't know whether it would be best to sit on a load of hay and think of religion or sit in church and think of the hay.

Oiling the Owner

"What do you find the most difficult thing about a motor car?"

"Paying the monthly instalments."

Hushed

"Is it true it cost $100 to have your family tree looked up?"

"Well, not exactly. I paid $5 to have it looked up, and $95 to have it hushed up."

Last 'Joke' Unpractical

LONDONA — (BUP) — Window cleaner Albert Hulkes was a lover of practical jokes. He got a kick out of scaring his wife by putting his head in the oven and turning on the jets just as she came in the front door. Tuesday he put his head under a cushion and rigged a gas pipe around his chest. But his wife failed to come home at the expected time. Hulkes died.

CHICAGO—Judge John T. Zuris denied a new trial here to Henry Earl Stagers, who was sentenced to six months in jail for drunken driving Sept. 23. Stagers was driving a car which collided with another, killing an occupant.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa,
I just had to make a comment on Gloria's note in our paper on November 18. I did what she is about to do and my husband drank for seven years afterwards. I packed my clothes to leave and he promised he'd never drink again.
However, he did now and then for another year. Denied my child and me the very necessities. We are still being denied because he can't make back what he threw away for seven years.

I have lived in a ramshackled old house, not a good window and openings around the doors a knife could go through. Not a comfortable bed in the house but the one I bought for the child. We get along horribly.

There are times when I don't even have the price of a postage stamp but he never tells me what he takes in or spends yet I am always asked to sign notes.

My sister supports me and partially supports the child. I think each day that I will have to go but all that keeps me is the child.
She is a dear and begs me to stay as she has always lived in the country and, if we went, we would have to live in the city with my sister.

Help me if you can.
Distressed.

Answer:
I have left out parts of your letter, telling of bad experiences you had while your husband was drinking. For the life of me, I can't understand why you stayed with him then, if you had a sister you could go to.

However, you did stay and now
I gather from your letter that your husband has stopped drinking and you get along badly because you live so poorly and have so little money. I wonder if the resentment of all those years hasn't built up to such an extent that you never let your husband forget his misdoings of the past.

If we forgive people for what they have done in the past and they are trying to live a better life, the thing to do is to wipe the slate clean and start from there.

Your husband should tell you
and explain about money matters
so you can see just what he is trying to do and if you are being treated fairly with what he has.

Your husband should tell you
and explain about money matters
so you can see just what he is trying to do and if you are being treated fairly with what he has.

However, if you decide to leave think well of where you are going. Will the surroundings and people you come in contact with be good for you and your child?
Will she have more advantages for happiness there than she has now?

If you decide to stay, try to have a more harmonious home.
Horrible rows between parents have a dreadful effect on children, so try to settle your differences when she is not present. Stop nagging about things that have happened in the past if your husband is trying to behave.

But, if you can't stand the life any longer, leave quietly and without a disturbance.

Louisa.

Car Of Another Color

ST. PAUL — Mr. and Mrs. William Ross gave police the following description of their stolen 1933 Ford sedan: Painted white with light-brown doors, black hood and top, one blue wheel, one green another red and the fourth a color the owners couldn't remember.

There It Is—In Black And White

UTICA, Mich.—Sportsmen's clubs with fancy titles are nothing new to managers of Michigan's state park system who welcome a variety of organizations each year.

But one group that visited the recreation area here raised a few eyebrows.

The name—Order of Deodorized Skunks of Detroit.

Typewriters Out For Quite A Spell

CHELMSFORD, Eng.—Typewriting lessons will no longer be encouraged in Essex high schools although some schools have included them in the curriculum for 20 years.

Teachers are too busy teaching children to spell, a county education official explained.

Doors Too Clean

WOONSOCKET, R.I.—Armand J. Blandel opened the outer doors of the Woonsocket hospital and walked in. He walked into a second set of doors he didn't see at all and kept walking—right into the hospital accident room for treatment of a bruised nose, forehead, and knee. The glass door was so clean and shiny, he couldn't see it.

Lesson For Today

PEMBERTON, Minn.—Villagers voted to license a liquor dealer here but found that no matter where the store might be located it would be too close to the village school. The law requires liquor stores to be at least 1,500 feet from a school. There isn't that much room in Pemberton.

Lieut.-Governors To Open Motor Shows

TORONTO, Jan. 26—The Lieutenant-governors of Ontario and Quebec will open the National Motor Shows in Toronto and Montreal, respectively, next month.

Hon. Louis O. Breithaupt, Lieutenant-governor of Ontario will officiate at the opening of the Toronto Show at the city's Automotive Building on Friday, Feb. 13.

The Montreal Show will open two weeks later, on Feb. 27, at the Show-Mart Building, with Hon. Gaspard Fauteaux, Lieutenant-governor of Quebec, officiating.

The shows this year are a revival of motordom's annual classics that were a feature of pre-war Canadian life. Started as an annual affair in 1932, the National Motor Show did much to help stabilize and uplift the Canadian economy during the depression years. The last show was held in Toronto in 1939 and the two this year are the first to be staged in the intervening 14 years.

Bold, new methods of display will be used to exhibit the latest in passenger car achievement, and the Toronto Show will be sparked by big names of the entertainment world.

Other features of the eight-day Toronto exhibition, which closes six days before Montreal opens, will be the largest showing of antique automobiles ever seen in the city, a display of trucks, and a fashion show highlighting the latest creations from Paris and New York.

CANADA TO GET EXTRA 35 CENTS ON WHEAT TO UNITED KINGDOM

OTTAWA — During the coming year, Canada is to receive an increase of roughly 35 cents a bushel on a portion of her 115,000,000-bushel wheat sales to Great Britain this year. This healthy boost in price will mean several millions of dollars, and results from Britain's food shortage, rigidities of the International Wheat Agreement, and prospects for a bigger wheat crop in Australia.

Most of the 115,000,000 bushels will be sold under the I.W.A. price of $1.80 (Canadian) a bushel, which includes carrying charges. The undisclosed balance will be at the non-I.W.A. or Class II price of $2.15 a bushel.

Under the I.W.A., 42 importing countries agree to buy, and four exporters agree to sell wheat in fixed quantities. Britain agreed to buy 177,000,000 bushels from the exporters during the current crop year. Australia, as one of the exporters, agreed to export 88,700,000 bushels. Because the outlook for her crop was discouraging it was thought at first she would be unable to meet the quota.

As a result, Britain decided to concentrate more of her purchases in Canada. Now the estimate for Australia's crop has been lifted by about 18,000,000 bushels to 179,000,000 from 161,000,000.

That means she will have more wheat to meet her export quota, Britain needs more wheat.

To take advantage of the extra wheat available in Australia, she decided to reduce her I.W.A. commitments in Canada. To make up for the reduction she agreed to take an equivalent amount of Class II Canadian wheat.

Mr. St. Laurent said the wheat involved in the switch is small, and while he gave no figures, it appeared likely that it was within the range of Australian crop increases.

Const. Kary Named To Ride At Coronation

TRAIL, B.C.—Constable Stanley Kary of the Trail Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment has been selected to attend the coronation ceremonies of Queen Elizabeth II at London in June.

Const. Kary is well fitted for the honor having had experience in the beautiful and world famous "musical ride" of the mounties. With other members of the famed police force, he toured the United States and appeared in Toronto during 1948. The squad made 52 appearances in all, including a show at Madison Square Gardens in New York.

Participants for the musical ride are selected mainly for their riding ability but also characteristics such as height, weight and build, to keep a proper uniformity.

Const. Kary, who is 24 years old, will be leaving for Rockcliffe, Ontario, Thursday. There he will attend a special training course group. They will be stationed there from three to four months.

He left his hometown, Delia, Alta., in March 1947, to join the force. After a period of training in Rockcliffe and Regina, Const. Kary was stationed in southern Saskatchewan. He was transferred to B.C. a year and a half ago and has since been stationed in Nelson, Radium Hot Springs, Cranbrook, Grand Forks. In April he came to Trail.

He was sent to Brilliant for a short time in the spring of 1949 where he helped restrain rebellious Doughbobs and a year later he was in Winnipeg for a few weeks when the Red River went on its disastrous rampage.

He has been on the highway patrol in the Trail area since July.

In June of last year Const. Kary married and brought his wife to live at 2302 Topping St. in Trail.

Britain To Buy Small Order Of Pork From Canada

OTTAWA—Britain has decided to buy about one million dollars' worth of Canadian bacon from Canada. The purchase, however, will be only a tiny fraction of the huge surplus of pork products built up in Canada as a result of the hoof-and-mouth disease and the U.S. embargo.

Officials estimated Britain would get between four and a half million and seven million pounds of bacon, compared with the Canadian surplus of some 100 million pounds.

Previously it was announced that Great Britain would buy one and a half million dollars worth of Canadian cheese.

Money for both deals was provided through Canadian payments to Britain for freight and handling charges arising out of the Canada-U.K.-New Zealand meat deal under which Canada disposed of 65,000,000 pounds of surplus beef in Britain.

Publication Of the Royal Commission Report On S. Sask. River Development

The report of the Royal Commission on the South Saskatchewan River project has been tabled in parliament and is now available to the general public. It is published in one volume which contains 3 parts. Findings, recommendations and general considerations make up part 1 of the report.

The Commissioners found that at present the economic returns on the investment in the project are not commensurate with the cost thereof, although the social returns would be of great value to the region concerned.

An important recommendation is that the present finding might be reviewed at some future date in the light of changing conditions.

The Commission found that the available data, which are by no means complete, indicate that Project does not represent the most profitable and desirable use which can be made of the physical resources involved.

Further study was recommended of the merits of, irrigating the arid core of Palliser's Triangle, irrigating additional land by pumping water direct from the Saskatchewan River and from existing irrigation canals, developing the Red Deer River Project.

Part II is concerned with The River Basin and Its Development, under such chapter headings as The Geographical Setting, The Historical Setting, Irrigation in Western Canada, HELENE Baillargeon and Alan Mills are all decked out in authentic period costumes for their program of folk music, "Songs de Chez Nous", heard every Monday on the CBC's Trans-Canada network. These well-known Canadian folk song singers, backed by the Arthur Morrow Choir, present an interesting half-hour program of music that illustrates both the English and French heritage of our country. Seldom-heard songs are presented along with the old favorites in order to acquaint listeners with music that is truly Canadian.

5,000 Farms In Alberta Clear $10,000 In Year

EDMONTON — (BUP) — The Alberta department of agriculture reported Wednesday there are 84,315 farms in the province, but only 5,000 have an annual production of more than $10,000.

Basing its report on a 1951 census and value of products in 1950, the department said 1,231 of the occupied farms in Alberta have a production of more than $20,000 in a year.

Most of the farms, 21,117 of them, gave their owners a living from value of products sold ranging from $1,200 to $2,499 a year. There are 12,841 farms in the next higher earning bracket, with output valued at between $2,500 and $3,749 annually.

On the leaner side, there are 12,064 farms where value of products sold ranged from $250 to $1,199 a year, and there are 8,144 farms in the province with value of production less than $250 yearly.

The department also reported 4,118 part-time farms and 90 institutional farms in Alberta.

Curling Notes

The local boys journeyed to Calgary to participate in the High School Brier Association playdowns Friday and Saturday of last week, after winning the district playdowns previously at Olds. Although they had a win and some good games they were eliminated. The boys, like all Crossfield club curlers, have had very few games due to warm weather, so without practice they are to be congratulated on even winning the district playdowns.
